

Letter of recommendation for Lokesh Goud Dabbi

by Jan Erik Sedlmeier, PhD candidate at the Institute of Phytomedicine, Department of Applied Entomology

I am writing to recommend Mr Lokesh Goud Dabbi, who is currently working as an assistant scientist on one of our research projects. We recruited Mr Dabbi for a position from April to May 2024 and have recently extended his position to June 2024 inclusive.

Throughout his time with us, Mr. Dabbi has consistently demonstrated reliability and a positive attitude. He reliably completes the tasks he is given, showing attention to detail and a strong work ethic. Mr. Dabbi is very polite and respectful to superiors and works well with others, creating a pleasant work environment. His ability to manage his responsibilities effectively and independently has been very beneficial to our project. I would like to point out that Mr Dabbi was always willing to work on weekends and holidays, which made working on this project much easier for us.

I believe Mr. Dabbi would be a valuable addition to any team. His professionalism and dedication make him a good candidate for roles in scientific research. If you have any questions or need further information, please feel free to contact me.

11.06.2024

Jan Erik Sedlmeier

Department of Applied Entomology (360c)
University of Hohenheim
Phone: 0711 459 24663
Email: jan.sedlmeier@uni-hohenheim.de

UNIVERSITÄT HOHENHEIM
Institut für Phytomedizin (360)
Fachgebiet Angewandte Entomologie
Otto-Sander-Straße 5
70599 Stuttgart, Germany